Once there was a tree that gave it's life for a desk, that gave it's life for a student, that came to school. That student sat in the desk, studied at the desk, wrote on the desk, made holes in the desk, broke the back of the desk and bent its metal. Then came the janitor that looked at the desk, shook his head about the desk, picked up the desk and dumped it outside.

Often talented people, like desks, are discarded or lost in the crowd. Super athletes and brainchildren receive most of the glory at school but this year's PINE CONE sought out GHS's "behind the scenes" stars. There are many shining "stars" at GHS that lead interesting lives. In a survey taken by the annual staff many unique facts were discovered about our student body. Most of these facts have been unrecognized at school so we chose a variety of these surveys, interviewed the "stars" and featured them in this year's PINE CONE. One such star is David Burns.

We have our own Rojer Decoster in the figure of David Burns. He has been racing motorcross for about a year and a half. He's won a number of trophies and quite a sum of money racing his 100 Suzuki. He's been to racetracks in Tenn., Va., Asheboro, and of course his favorite track is Acapulco in Lillington.

Many of our interviews revealed that a lot of GHS students enjoy and write poetry. Several poets we found are really good so we borrowed their works to put in print.

The sound of the wind, so silent You will never know it's there, Until . . .

Friends are sunshine
They're music to my heart
Trust and love all kind
Ann Eads

Greenwood has a personality all it's own. Here we make our friends in kindergarten and carry them through to graduation. Even though everyone is not close friends we know each other. This produces a special kind of togetherness and concern for each other.

Friendship here is not just a student to student relationship, a large majority of the teachers have close student friends. How many days has Mr. Wicker been able to eat lunch without ten guys hanging on to his table?

Gossip has it that one of our students has taken up hanging onto airplanes (that is until he lets go.) Bruce O'Quinn is the only student at Greenwood who willfully jumps from flying airplanes. He joined the U.N.C. Skydiving Club last summer and has made ten jumps. Seven he made on stag-line and the others in free fall.

When asked if it was hard to make himself jump Bruce said, "The second jump was harder to make than the first, but after that it was great because you feel a certain closeness to God."

As another school day unwinds we find our students busied with many different things. The band readies themselves for a concert. They would never make it on time if they couldn't dress each other, that's called team work. Then comes the time that we've all been waiting for, LUNCH. Some people socialize in the halls, others outside, but everyone is after the same thing, a good time. Lunch break gives us a chance to be with friends, just one or two on the front lawn or a mob of them in the main hall. 12:35 — the bell rings and everyone groans as we drag back to class. That is, unless you're an aide and enjoy it like Pat Cross does. She has been an aide for three years under the same teacher and loves it! Pat says, "Each year it has been a challenging experience. I have learned to use my imagination and to cope with children. Through aide I have learned to be more patient with children and to understand their personal and educational problems. If I had to take aide all over again, I would because I really like it and I am sure anyone could benefit from it."

Finally it's 2:30 and everyone rushes to leave only to return at 6:30 for a ballgame. The teams play, the crowds roar, the cheerleaders yell and stomp their feet, and everyone rocks (one way or another) with the band.

GHS is not just good times, there is a lot of hard work and dedication that goes into the school. These efforts are evident when report card time rolls around. Even though we sometimes dread them, happiness is finding an unexpected good grade.

"Honesty is better than making good grades," says Mrs. Marilyn Oldham. Mrs. Oldham has always tried to teach students right from wrong along with their studies.

With great pride the PINE CONE staff dedicates the 1976 yearbook to Mrs. Marilyn Oldham. She has been teaching business courses at Greenwood for 10 years. Through her bubbling personality and spirited teaching methods, students cannot help but love and respect her. She's always eager to help students in any way she can and sets a good example for others to follow.

Her dedication and vitality of teaching makes us proud that we can do this small thing for her.

Life becomes a reality only after freedom.
Green and Gold Yellow Rose

Seniors were asked to comment on items of interest. When asked to comment on current news events Rocky Barnes said, "The crisis in Angola is a very important and crucial one. In my opinion the U.S. should not back down from the situation but should show the Pro-East forces (Russia, Turkey, etc.) that the U.S. can hold its own. If I were Commander-in-chief of the Armed Forces I would use a certain amount of force to show the rest of the world that they couldn't get away with everything."

On matters of TV Christine Battle says, "Less news is what we need." Sherwin Pearson commented, "Television is not serious enough today and is too phony. To many repeats are shown."

On the issue of consolidation of schools, Teresa Tippett had this to say, "I feel sorry for the students that will never be able to graduate and feel the closeness for a school as we do. But I see some definite advantages to attending a larger school. Despite popular belief people are people and nice ones can be found if you only look." "Consolidating the schools to me is a very good idea, because in a bigger school a person would have a wide variety of studies he can choose from," is the comment from Virginia Fields.

Trina Green says, "It seems as though most seniors have chosen science careers or else military fields. It doesn't seem as though many girls are planning marriage as a future, but instead are choosing careers."

On the subject of movies Carolyn Stewart says, "'Funny Lady' was!" She also said, "1976 will be a very good year for Seniors, Ronald Reagan, and of course, Henry Kissenger — Somebody is going to be elected for something despite public opinion!"

Ricky Spivey took advantage of the opportunity to throw his 2¢ in. "I think the golf team should receive more recognition from the school. All four of us!"

Life is just a grasp away
Graduation is the big day
Happiness and tears
That will be shed .
Years will pass
You may wed
What is life?
Work, love, feeling?
Knowing Life
Yet not knowing.

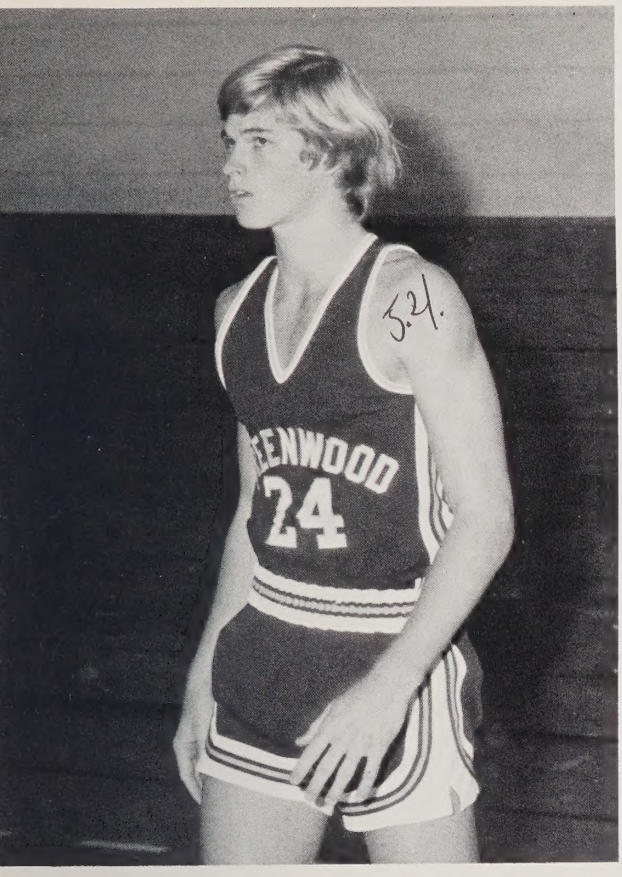
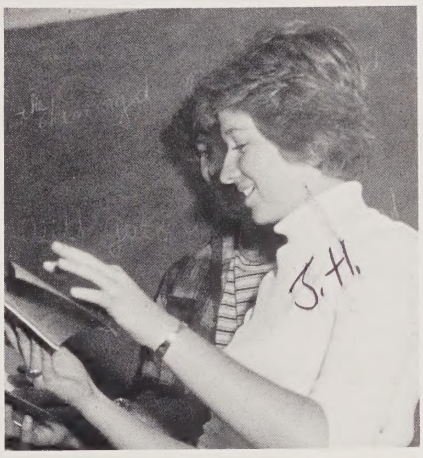
PARENTS





"Pardon me, Miss Mary Kennedy — I mean 'Miss Greenwood.' I'm Freddy Funderbark, you probably recognize me as Friendly Freddie from that fabulous radio station WLSU. I just wanted to ask you a few questions so all your fans out there in GHS-land can know their Queen.

Certainly, but please do make it brief, I have ball practice, it's the most important thing you know."

"Miss Kennedy, could you tell our listeners something uniquely personal about yourself? Perhaps you would share one of those secret most-embarrassing moments."

"Well — I had a most unfortunate incident happen when I was in the 7th grade. I had this really "sheer" blouse that my Mom made we wear a slip under. I chose this attire to wear skating one night. Well, I was skating around the rink and suddenly my slip slipped to my knees — talk about embarrassing!"

"What's your favorite singing group or star?"

"The Beatles and Elton John."

"Oh, yes, I've heard about your 'blinking' Elton John glasses."

"Just one last question, Miss Greenwood. What is you fav radio station?"

"WWGP, of course!"

Yeah for Yow! When you learn your ABC's, Y comes near the end, but after 12 years we thought that Joey deserved to be first. In the PINE CONE we decided to reverse the class pictures — just for you, Joey!

Many of the Seniors work as student aides. Patsy Loposay is a special ed aide. She helps the children with their reading and writing. Patsy says she enjoys helping them.

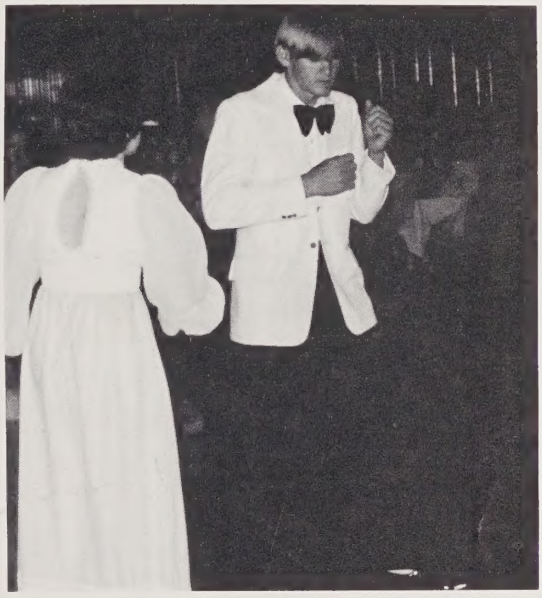
May ninth

Nineteen hundred and seventy-five



"Won't you be my midnight runaway? Won't you take the time to run away with me? Feeling fine tonight, we'll runaway. Should we head for the hills or to the sea?" Most of the seniors got the idea . . . but they "ran to the sea" before the prom!

After working all year on decorations, food, music, invitations and many other details the Juniors had their pay-off May 9th.

It was a long day of putting up, tearing down, doing and redoing. Things such as these happened: Trina Green had to get 350 cupcakes in Gertrude, her little VW. "Why are Teresa and Lisa playing in the sandpile in the corner?" They were really making a sandcastle to carry out the theme. Then as a long day was about to come to a close and everything was almost finished, down came the ceiling, and up came a lot of cries and groans!

All the work and worry of "decorating day" produced a fantastic prom for a group of honored Seniors and a feeling of "mission accomplished" for some very tired, but happy Juniors.

PULL FOR A VICTORY!

When the subject of sports arises we hear various comments from our students.

Pat Blue replied, "Football is my favorite sport even if I am a female. I've loved playing since Mr. Wicker taught it in the 7th grade. The boys and girls played two hand tag. In my earlier years I'd played tackle with my brothers. Maybe in the future we will have a girls' team. I like playing in the backfield where all the action is."

One of our lady athletes, Mary Kennedy said, "I enjoy all sports and value them as much as I do my education. It gives me a chance to get away from the old routine and relax and enjoy myself. There's something about the sport that eases not only your mind but your body, also. Track is an individual sport, you are on your own and when you achieve victory it gives you pride and self-esteem." How do we spell sports? . . . M-R. W-I-C-K-E-R!

Steve Jones thinks that participation in sports is a great way to make friends. "I know because this year I played football and made a lot of friends and had a lot of good TIMES!

David Burge says, "Basketball is the greatest thing that ever happened to me."

Our chief cheerleader, Lisa Roberts appreciated the friendly feelings between the cheerleaders and fans this year.

"I enjoy the competition and the excitement about baseball. No. 1 means alot when you have ten teams who are capable of beating each other," was Gary Willett's comment.

FOOTBALL! Dedication, team spirit and discipline describe the 1975 Football Team! Some of the highlights were beating our rival, the Benhaven Bulldogs, and stomping Rosewood! The Hornets had a losing season, yet they were a winning team in other ways.

Steve Jones was recognized by the RALEIGH TIMES as an outstanding player. Sherwin Pearson and Danny Hemric made All-Conference. Danny also honorable mention in All-East.

Team member William Gray commented, "The day of a game, where else can my mind be, except on the big game? Will I play good or will I play bad? I am already mentally and physically prepared, 'cause, if not, it is to late now. There isn't much to say because it's now or never."

This year Homecoming took a big change! The Monogram Club had each class sponsor floats to encourage school spirit, all classes took an eager part to make this a success.

The Juniors won the competition with the theme, "Flush the Raiders." The Sophomores took second with "Round Up the Raiders." "Liberty Leads the Way" was the theme of the senior float and the Freshmen used the theme, "The Garden of Eden."

1975 HOMECOMING QUEEN
CAROLYN McIVER

Carolyn McIver after being crowned queen said, "I had always hoped to become queen someday. I was especially glad to have my mother, daddy, both of my grandmothers, uncles and my granddaddy present. I had worked so hard to win and they were proud of the family queen."

Almost every girl dreams of being a cheerleader. The dream became a reality for Greenwood's cheerleaders back in July when Miss Gwyn Moore organized the group.

Old favorites were worked in with new cheers and chants. The Booster's Club donated material and the Monogram Club bought pom poms. With the backing of all these friends the nine girls went to the first game at Denton with real school spirit and enthusiasm. Then the rains and cold weather came. Those beautiful green and white shoes weren't waterproof — neither were they fadeproof or skid proof. (Tammy Jernigan really stole the show when hers refused to keep her afloat!)

The basketball season was a real inspiration to all Greenwood sport fans and the cheerleaders really enjoyed pulling for the girls' and boys' teams. The dream of being the champs always before them! Hey! Lisa, you didn't have to put so much into it that you plain passed out!

The really big addition to the school spirit was the bon fires for Greenwood's teams! Fans brought their timbers to the football field and chanted, cheered and danced to the sounds of the Pep Band.

The ups were upper and the downs were downer than ever before but all in all the year was the greatest! Our best cheers to Lisa Roberts, chief, Julie Howard, co-chief, Gail Coffer, Mary Foxx, Kathy Strickland, Rhonda McKinney, Lisa Cox, Tammy Jernigan and Sheila Barnes.

This year the Lady Hornets had a new coach, Mr. Buie. With only a few new members added to the team, the girls began daily practice. Layups, foul shooting, dribbling, offensive and defensive plays and rebounding were practiced over and over to try to come close to perfection. Sometimes the girls left these practices with blisters on their feet. Nevertheless, these girls were seen the next practice working as hard as the others.

Ability is an important factor in basketball, but there are other things equally important. Self control. Doing the same drills over and over, day after day, with the same people causes shortened nerves, as well as short tempers. A good player is one who can grit her teeth and bear it, while she is really steaming inside. Cooperation is also an important factor in being a good player. These things, as well as team spirit, combine to form the word that keeps everything together . . . dedication.

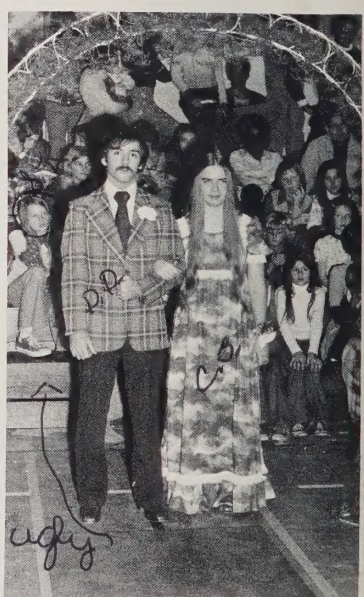
The boys' basketball squad consists of: Gary Graham, mgr.; David Burge, Harry McIver, Joey Yow, Sherwin Pearson, Coach Eddie Brafford, Jay Yow, Steve Garner, John Lemon, William Gray, Wilbert Goins, Rocky Barnes, Doug Bullard, Jimmy Foxx.

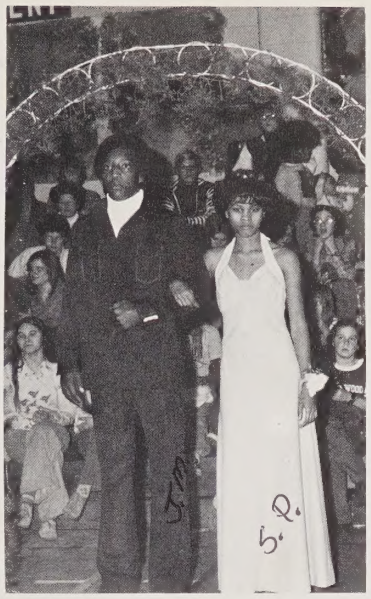
Mr. Eddie Brafford successfully coached a winning team again this year! Even though Benhaven defeated us for the district championship we still had a chance to go to the state playoff when Joey Yow gave us the winning points in double overtime thriller against Princeton. With 10 seconds to go we were 4 points behind, then Joey dropped in a jump shot and Sherwin Pearson stole the ball for Doug Bullard to tie the game. In the second overtime Joey took a jump shot and was fouled to give us a three point play. The final score was 53-56 and off we went to the state playoffs for the first time.

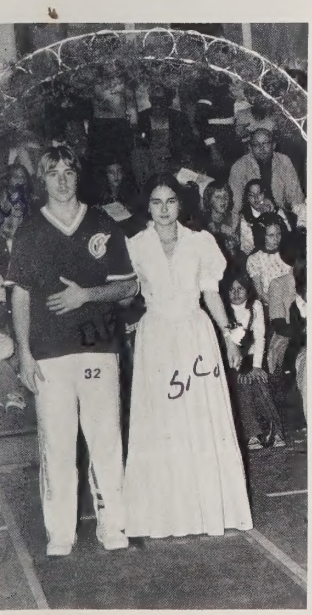
In another double overtime, heart stopper against Gold Sand John Lemon made the final point by a driving lay-up giving us the winning score of 66-65.

The top team, Wentworth, defeated us by 5 points which gave us a chance to play in the consolation game against Rosewood. After trailing the entire game William Gray made the winning points (80-79) just as the buzzer sounded and we captured the 3rd place position in the 1-A Class in N.C.

We are proud of our basketball MEN and rank them as real champs and first class winners.







Basketball homecoming contestants and their escorts for 1976 were: Pat Cross, Harry McIver; Gail Coffer, Tommy Tuten; Kelley Holland, Keith Bouman; Sharon Petty, Jimmy McIver; Julie Howard, Dale Strickland; Gloria Hickman, Steve Jones; Janet Dunlap, Brian Cross; Patsy Bullard, David Burge; Stephanie Holt, "Lady-in-Waiting," Jimmy Atkins; Renee Holt, "Duchess," Mark Howard; Darla Watson, "Princess," Jerry McIver; Carolyn Stewart, David Dull; Sonya Cole, Doug Bullard; Elizabeth Gunter, Rodney Marsh; not pictured, Barbara Hawkins, Carlson McCormick.

Running cedar in white wicker stands, greenery entwined around an arched entrance and candleabra were the settings for Homecoming '76. The candles were lighted, the lights were dimmed, then "Roll out the green carpet, here come the contestants." Pretty girls with big smiles and handsome escorts entered one by one. Each couple was applauded by their own "fan club" and went to stand to await the big moment. Then, it came, the moment everyone had longed for. The three winners were announced and the dreams of one lucky girl became a reality. Linda Day was crowned Homecoming Queen 1976.

Linda possesses talents as well as beauty. The light blue dress she was wearing when crowned was skillfully made by her artistic hands. She is often sought by faculty members to create bulletin boards.

Linda is obviously a girl admired by her classmates who chose her their 1976 Basketball Homecoming Queen.

This year we have only returning lettermen on our golf team, Ricky Spivey, a veteran of three years (our ole pro), and Mike Sharpe who was last year's "Rookie of the Year!" Mr. Charles Nash, coach for the past five years is hoping for new golfers to come out in the spring and is looking forward to a winning season!

Our girls' volleyball team has a record to be proud of. They were undefeated in their games this past season. At left, Mrs. Temple, coach, shows us how her team works themselves to the bone for an undefeated year. Great work, girls, but you should try to put on a few pounds before next year!

A very important part of our sports events at GHS is our Pep Band. They gave a school pep song for our football season, pom pom routine for the cheerleaders and a rocking good time for the fans.

Most students don't realize it, but without the presence of a deputy sheriff there would be no ballgames at Greenwood. We want to send out a special thank you to Deputy Harold Thomas who is a faithful spectator and avid Greenwood fan.

We proudly present the names of 20 students who have been recognized for their qualities. The Society of Distinquished American High School Students are: David Burge, Karen Coggins, Pat Cross, David Dull, Virginia Fields, Trina Green, Mary Kennedy, Susan McGilvary, Lisa Roberts, Ricky Spivey, Carolyn Stewart, Joey Yow, Teresa Strickland, Jay Yow, Doug Bullard, Christie Cooper, Angela Swann, Jay Roberts, Patsy Bullard, Lisa Cox.

"I think clubs are a vital part of any school. They play a large part in student-teacher activities and promote understanding between them by working for a common goal." "To belong to clubs gives a sense of challenge, and without challenge where would we all be besides no where?" "I think they're good because they give students a chance to work together, they also get us out of class sometimes."

Extracurricular activities add "spice" to school. Often a student is able to achieve popularity through organizations and feels that he is an important part of our total program. Scholarships are given to worthy students by two of our clubs, homecoming festivities are planned by a group which also bought a lawn mower and flags and banners for the GHS Band. Spirit Week promotes rivalry among classes. The windows of Mrs. Thompson's classroom and the cafeteria were made more attractive by curtains fashioned by another group. Our athletic teams are supported by a club which also gave the Class of '77 a chance to show who can really build a float! To those students who do not choose to belong to clubs we feel you are missing an important part of your high school career.

GREENWOOD HIGH SCHOOL
HORNET BAND

It all started one beautiful day when Rex Jackson called to say band camp would be starting next week. "I'm sorry, Mr. Jackson, I won't be able to make it, I'm going on a skin diving expedition and won't surface until school starts." But all the long hot days of running up the hill when we made a mistake, or running laps for talking back or cutting up, shouting, "Yes, Sir," over and over again because it wasn't loud enough finally paid off when a football show was completed and we did pretty good. Then Mr. Jackson would say, "See you guys Monday night at 6."

Practices weren't too bad, if you were on the track team! The average 3 hour practice wasn't so bad, we got one fifteen minute break!

After football season we thought we'd get a little vacation, but little did we know parades were just around the corner. The next couple of weeks it was memorize your music and march, march. There were plenty of parades, the Jonesboro, Sanford and Broadway. The biggest and definitely the longest was the Cary Band Day. Our band received a plaque and is proud that the drummers placed third in the state.

With Christmas parades over we worked toward the Christmas concert, which was a great success. A special thanks to Keith Bouwman, his mother and Mr. Jackson. They spent many long, hard hours working on the scenery for the concert.

We have faith that the band will be as successful in the future as it has been in the past.

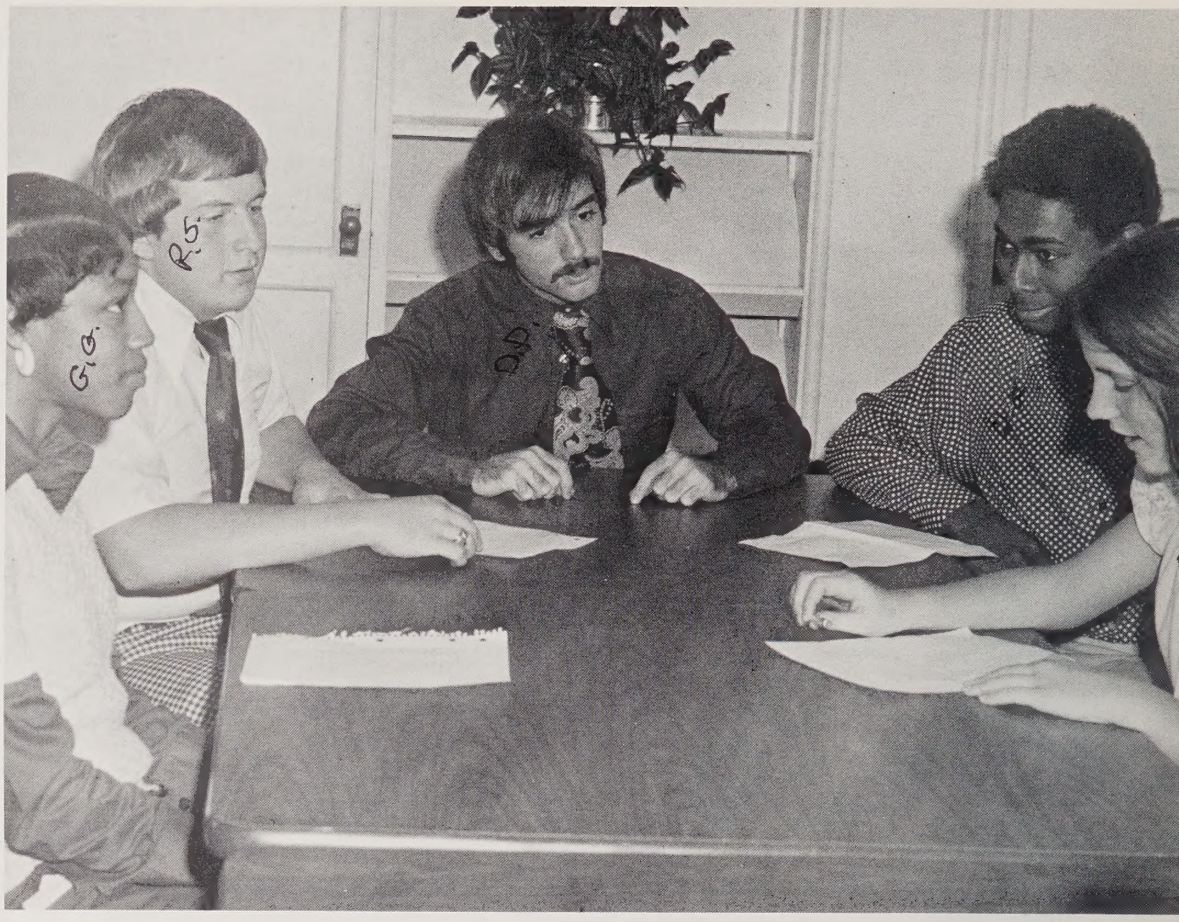
Greenwood Chorus can only be described as Greenwood Chorus. Contrary to the belief that you sign up for a crip course you have only to attend one class to understand its demands. You've been over the same part ten, eleven times and suddenly you're singing alone. Hey! Were you asked to sing a solo? No — just came in at the wrong time!

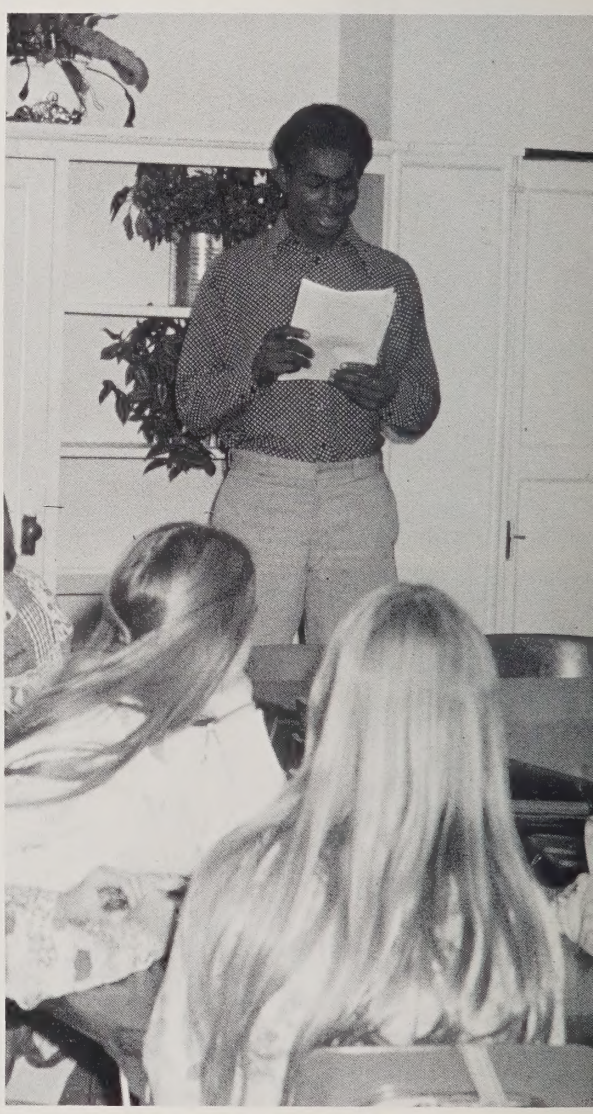
There were fun times too. Imagine Timmy Jackson balancing himself on five books so he could see Mr. Jackson directing. Did anyone ever see that drummer Gail Coffer said she kept?

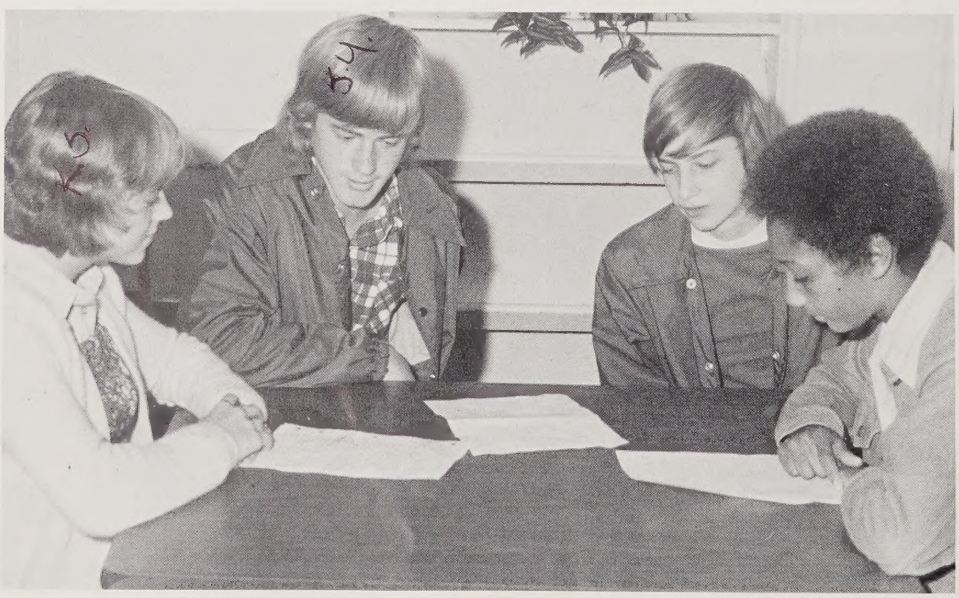
Each performance meant every one doing his part, whether it was the entire group of 55 or a smaller group. The real key to the success was the director, Mr. Rex Jackson. Hats off to him.

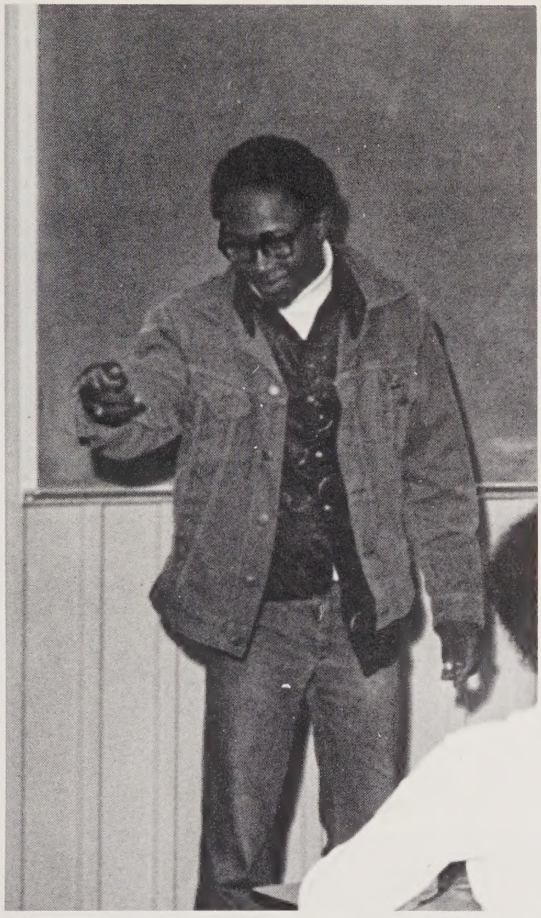
Greenwood has a future Leslie Brooks Elliot in the talent of Paula Cox! Paula has a special interest in playing the piano. She uses her spare time for practicing and teaching piano to others. She has won a trophy for performance and plans to have some of her own arrangements of music published in the future. Paula plans to go to U.N.C.G. to become a concert pianist!

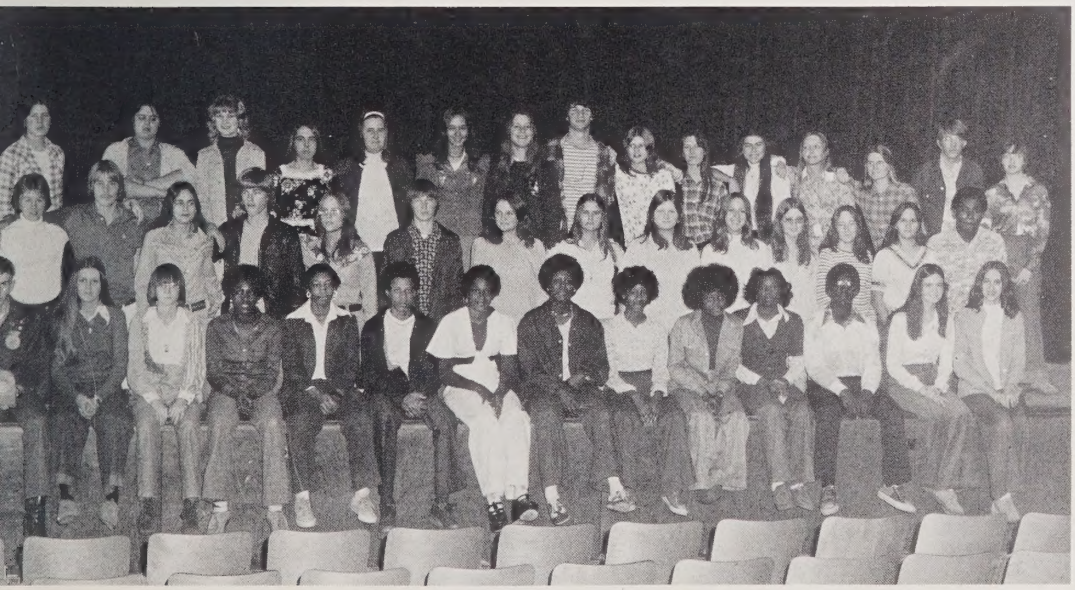
During the interview she made the remark, "I was almost an April's Fool! I was born at 12:35 a.m. April 2nd." Her versatility at the piano proves otherwise.











The 1975-76 Student Government officers are: Pres., David Dull; V.P., William Gray; Sec., Patsy Bullard; Treas., Ricky Spivey and Attorney General, Gail Glover.

Plans are being made for field day, clean-up day and other school projects.

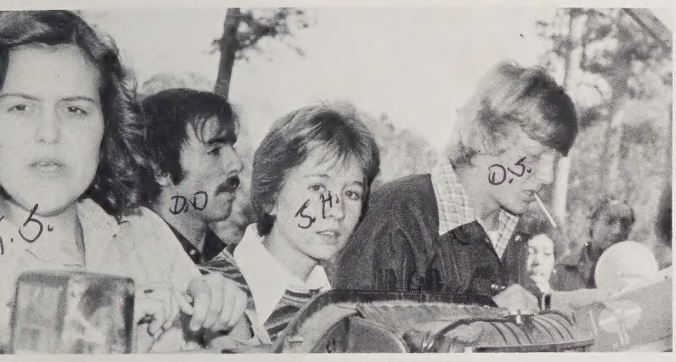
You only meet a person like Mrs. Josephine Gardner once in a lifetime. You're suddenly aware of her sincerity and you can be sure it's genuine. Her laugh and vibrant personality will make you question your outlooks of the world all over again. You'll soon find yourself learning in a new way, and enjoying every minute of it.

Her main loves are people and drama. She was the backbone of every effort the Greenwood Drama Club ever made. She took this year's club and was turning it into a fun-filled and efficient organization.

Everyone in the club was treated equally and plans were underway to reward the hard workers and loyal members of the club.

When Mrs. Gardner left because of Mr. Gardner's illness it became apparent that in order for the club to continue we would have to recruit new leaders. Special thanks should go to Mr. Dennis Foushee and Mrs. Angela Barefoot for the time which they put in to keep the club from falling apart.

We are all looking forward to Mrs. Gardner's possible return for she will have brought something back with her that one seldom sees — a new outlook!



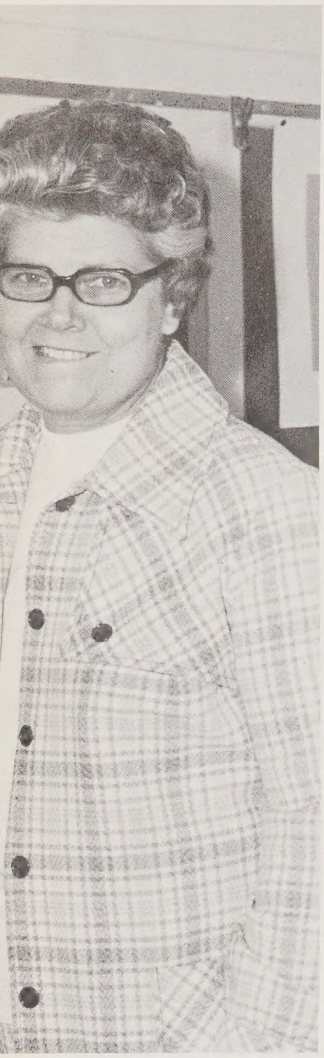
SENIOR BETA members — R. Holt, T. Green, G. Medlin, S. Cole, G. Coffer, V. Fields, R. Spivey, T. Strickland, G. Hickman, K. Coggins, Mrs. Wilson, S. McGilvary, T. Tippett, C. Stewart, A. Stone, D. Dull, C. Cooper, M. Donathon, S. Wright, T. Fore.

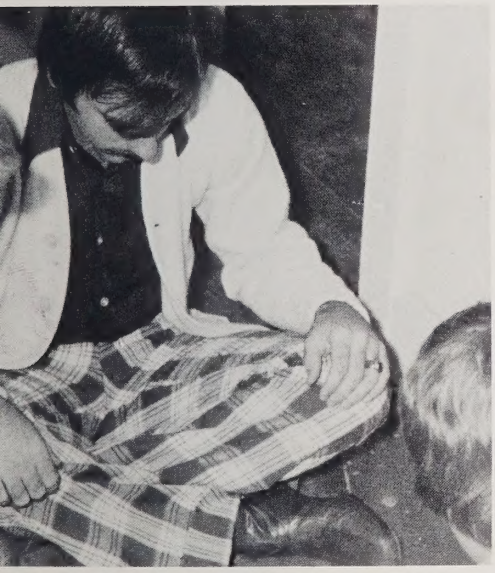
The first Senior Beta project of the year was the annual Christmas Cheer drive which provided food, toys and thankful smiles for two families. The Club has discussed many activities to be carried out throughout the year to improve Greenwood — its buildings and grounds and of course, its students.

JUNIOR BETA members — B. Douglas, K. Lemons, R. Holt, A. Cameron, (he's got legs!), P. Cox, P. Branch, V. Lamm, M. Salmon, P. Bullard, sponsor, Miss Brenda Dunham, D. Maddox.

Even though the Junior Betas started this year on unsteady ground their Yuletide projects, giving the maintenance staff gifts and feeding three families a complete Christmas dinner, were successful.

BUS DRIVERS — Is it really worth 65 kids yelling in your ear, checking your bus when there's been a bomb threat, getting up at 6:30 in the morning to a cold bus, and all the other unreasonable requests you get, just for that monthly check? Of course some people wouldn't mind that monthly check, would they Dale? Have you ever had the fear of your bus cutting off in the middle of the railroad tracks? Just ask Rocky, he should know all about it. It seems that substitutes have the hardest time, especially when you get 165 when you're supposed to have 19, remember, Jay? But I guess if your nerves can take this, that's why you're called a bus driver.





F.H.A. members — T. Tippett, G. Hickman, R. Dalrymple, C. Holt, S. Douglas, S. O'Quinn, D. Godfrey, B. Jones, T. Green, S. McGilvary, J. Dunlap, L. Brewington, C. Stewart, K. Coggins, J. Corley, A. Jackson, N. West, G. Glover, P. Cross, C. McIver, A. Swann. Officers — Pres., Carolyn Stewart; V.P., Angela Swann; Sec., Karen Coggins, Treas., Rose Mary Dalrymple; Parl., Nancy West; Hist., Susan McGilvary; Rep., Jeanette Corley; Rec. Leads., Lisa Cox, Linda Brewington, Trina Green; Project Chairman, Mary Kennedy, Teresa Tippett.

Our little homemakers have been busy with service projects, like making curtains for Mrs. Thompson's classroom and Christmas stockings for her students. One of the highlights of the year for several girls was their participation as pages in the district FHA rally.

F.B.L.A. members — V. Fields, J. Holt, J. Howard, P. Boggs, Mrs. Oldham, sponsor, R. Goins, A. Stone, D. Waddell, J. Bennett, D. Gilliam, K. Gwyn, B. Donithan. Officers — Pres., Rachel Goins and Diane Waddell; V.P., Teresa Lamm; Sec., Julie Howard; Treas., Dawn Gilliam; Rep., Virginia Fields.

Greenwood will never be the same after the FBLA graduates. Many long hours go into typing the HORNET and not enough thanks go to the girls for all the work, but it is well appreciated by everyone.

FRENCH CLUB members are those students who take French. Mrs. Ellen Myers is their teacher and sponsor. As a Christmas project they learned carols in French and sang for the high school faculty members at their homes.

The Chess Club's goal is to play in tournaments. It takes real concentration, but the game in itself is fun.

The F.F.A. is made up of those young men who are enrolled in forestry, shop, drafting, and agriculture courses. The officers are Pres., Allen Sellars; V.P., Mike Perry; Sec., Roy Holt; Treas., Randy Matthews; Rep., Alan Coggins; Sentinel, David Eades. Mr. Jesse Butts is sponsor and teacher.

Future farmers you sure are. Anyone who can build, plant trees, and withstand initiation deserves to be in the FFA. Each year new members are initiated into the club. You can always tell who the poor fellows are because they're the ones with the pants' legs rolled up, different shoes, hair slicked back, and really looking gritty for the day. Of course, Monday when they come back to school after the big party some faces are still blue from sitting on ice, eating a cracker and whistling "Dixie". You guys are indeed to be commended, because you are FFA members.

With a new advisor this year and many new members, the HORNET staff has really come through with a good school paper. Each month THE HORNET is published with news about the school and its happenings. There are often many mishaps in putting out a school newspaper like leaving out important names, getting headlines mixed up, and the delivery boys getting mobbed in the chorus room. THE HORNET staff is learning together as a group how to publish a good newspaper.

One deep, dark, desolate night, with deadlines pressing, your dedicated PINE CONE Staff resorted to singing to brighten up their spirits. We'd like to share our little song with you. Sing along to 'I've Been Workin' on the Railroad."

"I've been workin' on the PINE CONE,
all the whole school year,
I've been workin' on the PINE CONE, just for your pleasure, Dear!
Can't you see the clock a'ticking
Deadlines comin' so fast.
Can't you hear Mrs. Cox's shouting,
"Don't you wait till last."
Mrs. Cox, don't you yell,
Clock, don't you tick,
People, won't you buy those ads, ads, ads?
Staffers, there's a meeting,
Be there on time,
And we're really gonna work tonight.
Get that cropper working,
Where did those snapshots go-o-o-o?
Someone's got to write some copy,
Don't make me, oh "no!"
Ho, hum, yuck, yuck, yuck,
Ho, hum, yuck, yuck,
No, no, no, no,
Ho, hum, meet that date,
Put it in the mail to go."

As always the 1976 staff had their share of difficulties. Like when pictures disappeared (or never were made), and merchants slammed their doors in the faces of ad seekers.

There were lots of good times too — we always stopped working to eat!

The staff would like to especially thank advertising businesses, teachers who excused us from classes and parents who allowed us to work in their homes.

PINE CONE STAFF 1975-76

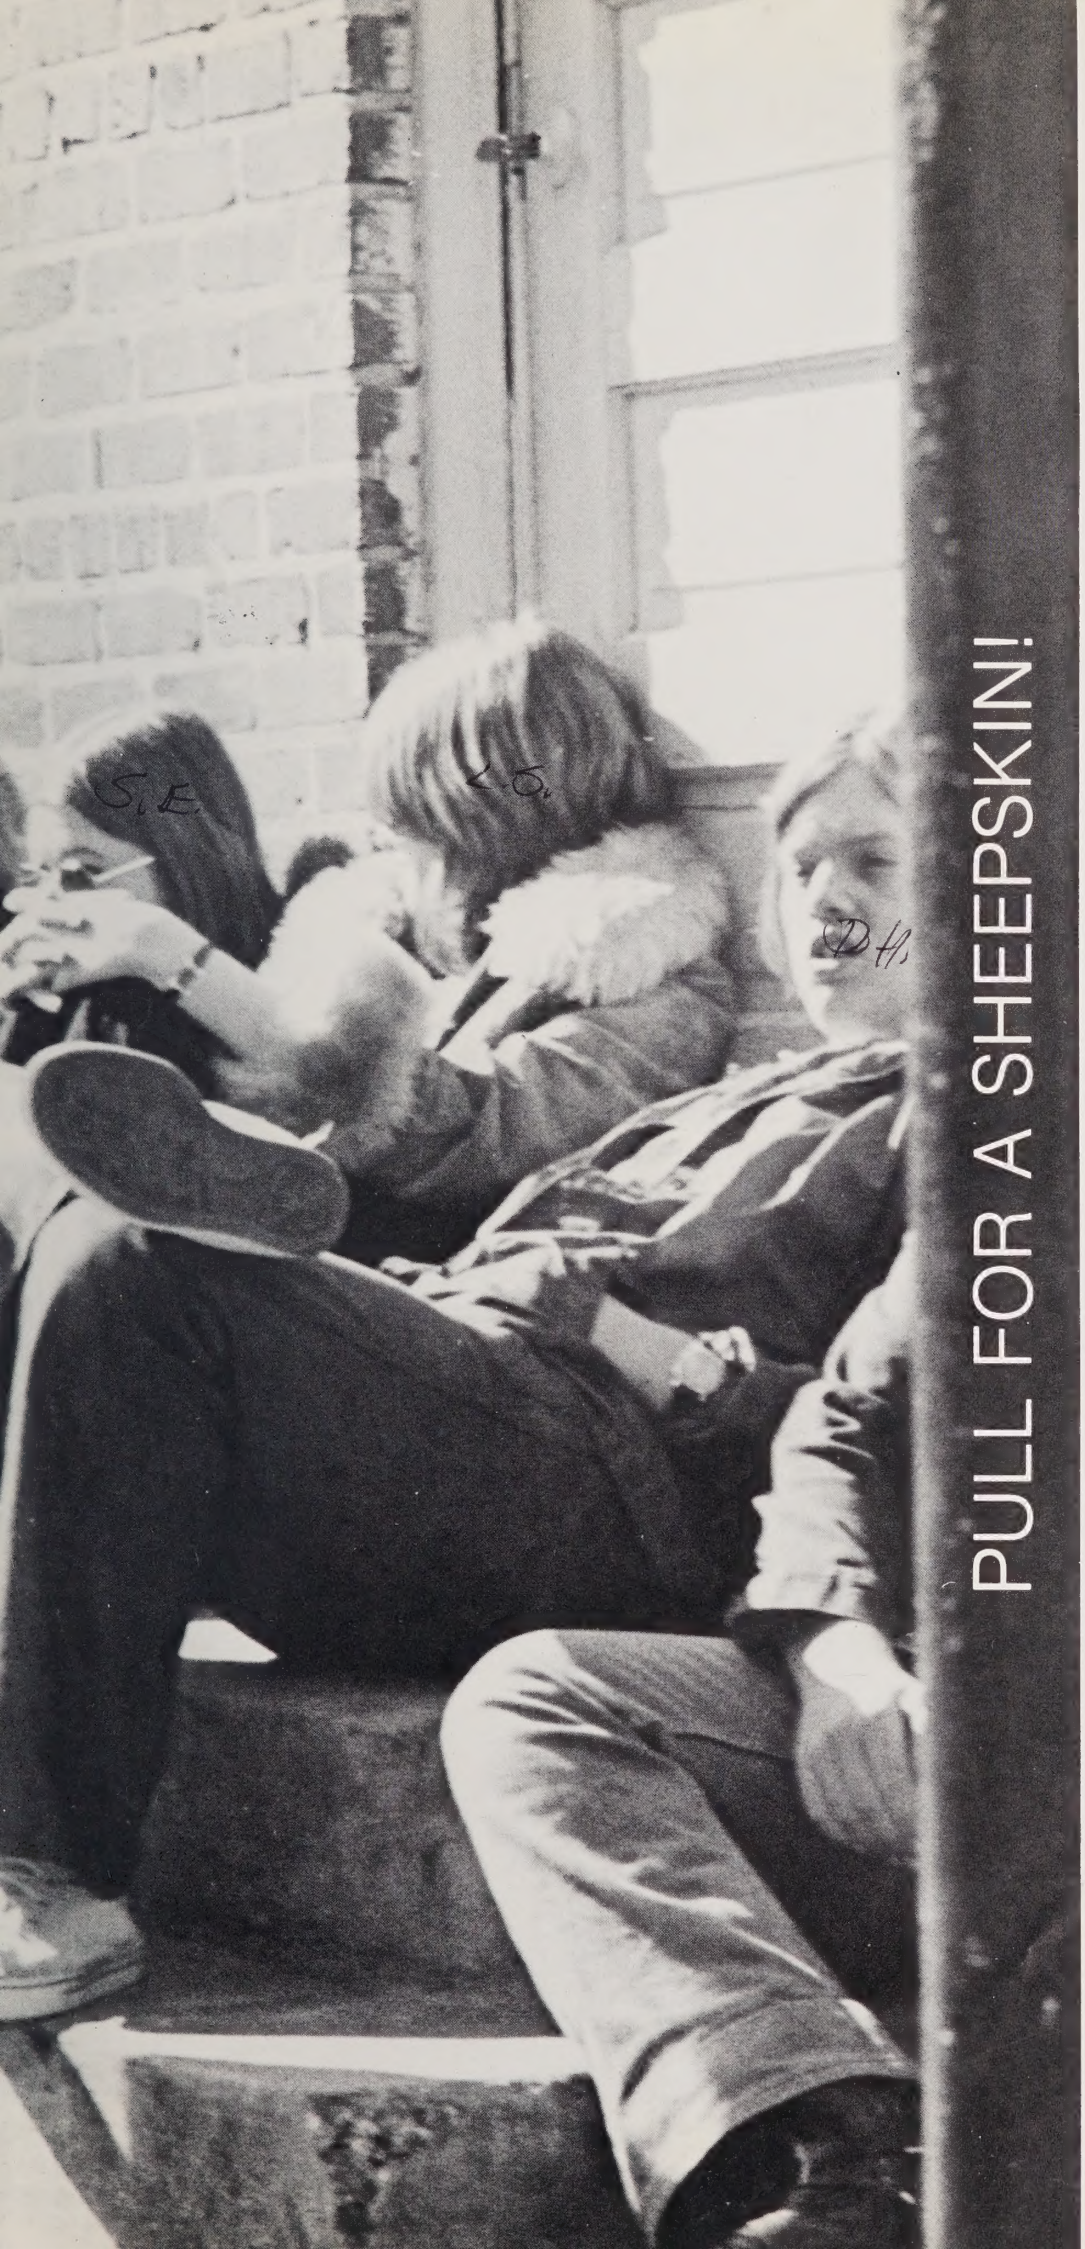
"Miss Dunham, the first thing you have to learn is that you can't lose your class!"

One morning during sophomore English, Miss Dunham was late getting to class. Her students (all 11 of them) decided to play a trick on her. They all got behind the bulletin board, leaning against the wall, with their feet against the bulletin board. They got very quiet, and soon heard the pitter-patter of Miss Dunham's little feet running down the hall. She rushed into her room, the students heard a loud exclamation of surprise, and then the slamming of the door as she rushed down the hall to Mr. Foushee's room. She excitedly began telling her story. He accompanied her back to her room to see if her students had returned. To her dismay she found they had not. The two teachers stepped into the hall to converse and the students took this opportunity to quietly slip back into their seats. Miss Dunham heard a noise and peeked in. She was pleasingly surprised to find her students safe and sound! After a few laughs and smart remarks from Mike Donathan ("Mercy, What more can I say?"), Miss Dunham recovered and class convened.



PULL FOR A SHEEPSKIN!

Admit slips, homework assignments, oral compositions, cutting up frogs, writing themes, working out equations, sleeping, (snore!) skipping classes, (getting caught!) all go together to make up classes at GHS.

The word "school" itself is a word most students dread to hear after a few months of monotonous routine. Even though we go to the same class every day, at the same time, with the same teachers, most classes hold a certain something, good or bad, that each student will always remember.

A common remark heard by Seniors during the year is, "I sure am glad I'm graduating." But near the end of the year, as always before, these same seniors will be heard expressing remarks of unhappiness concerning the year's end. Past memories begin to be reminisced and friends become misty-eyed over these happy, yet unhappy, thoughts. Finally, on graduation night, these memories, together with unknown happenings of the future, combine to bring tears to the eyes of the graduates, as well as their families and friends.

As upperclassmen, Juniors have more responsibilities and duties. They work on the prom, raise money and make those important final decisions. The best moments of the year are ordering classrings and having the best class float!

Freshmen seem to spend most of their time playing hide-and-seek. The boys seem to get a "kick" out of jumping out of windows. But, wait until next year, when they can be the SEEKER!

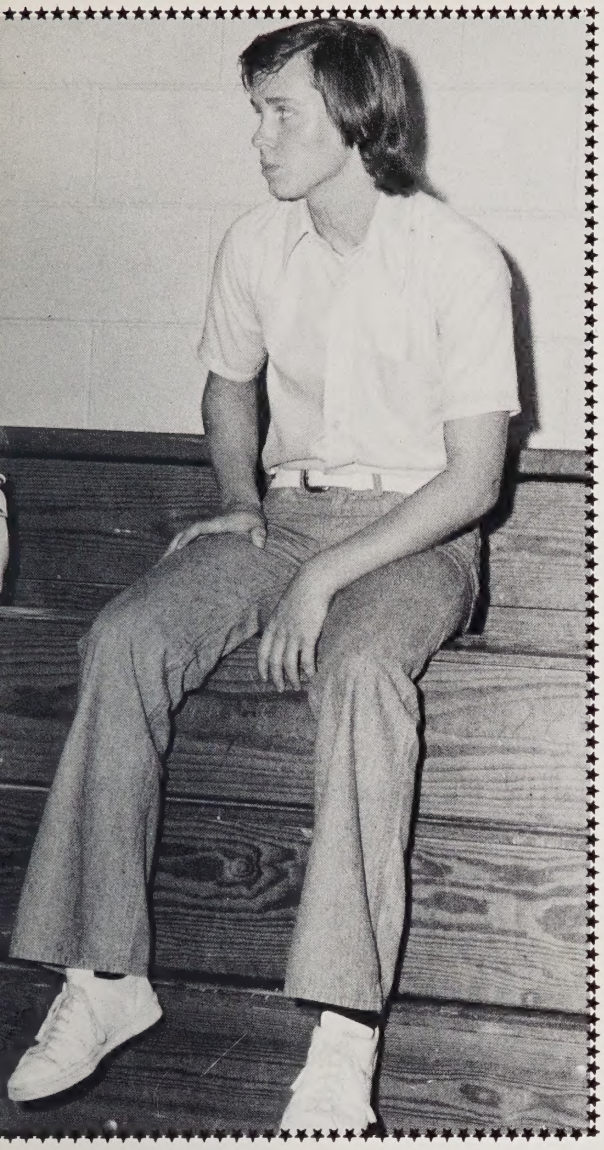
STOP



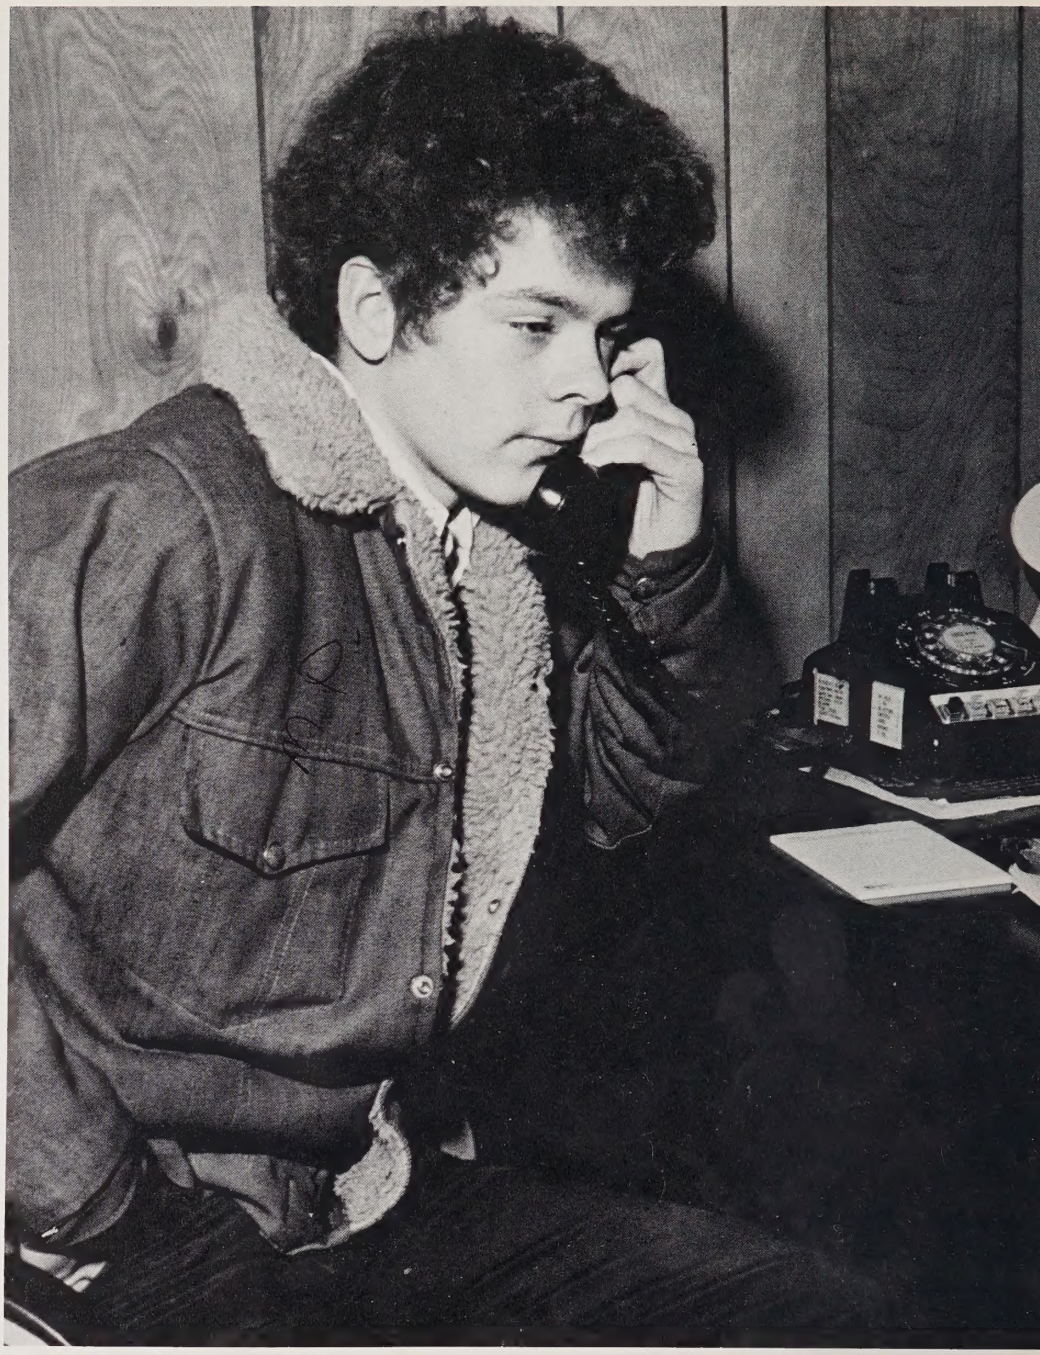
For a small school, Greenwood has a wide variety of personalities and talents. Whether you're at a ballgame singing the national athem or in class doing "corn rows," there is more than likely a very talented and interesting person not far away.

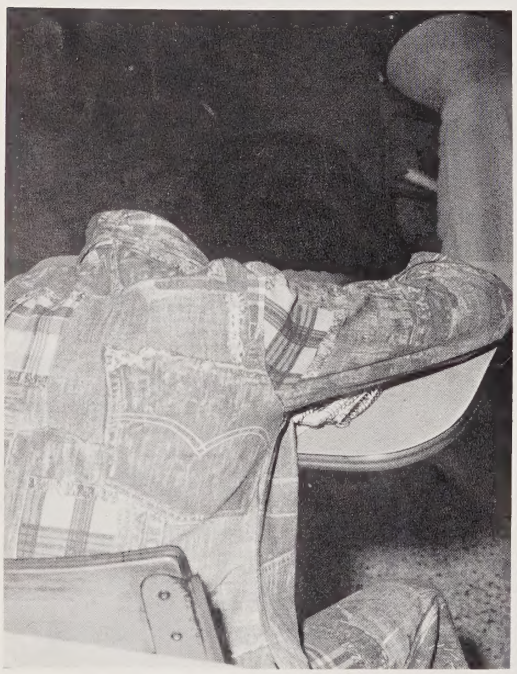
Harry Joe McIver is one such person. He moved to Greenwood from Baltimore, Maryland where he began his basketball career. Obviously, he is doing the right thing because he's one of the leading rebounders in the conference and has made All-Conference.

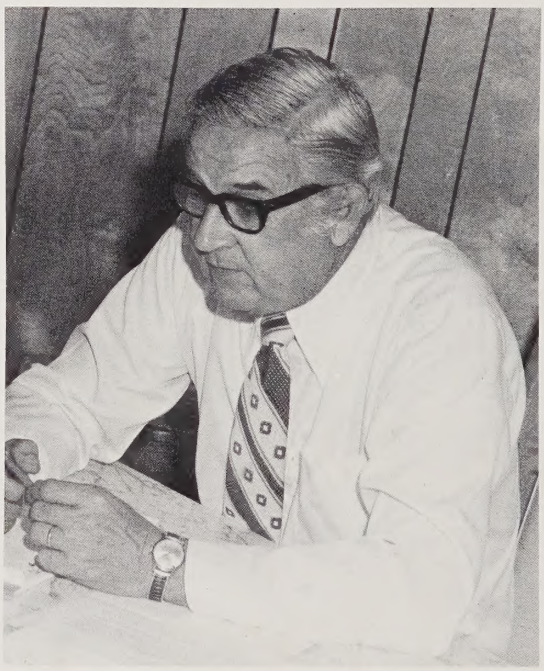
Another interesting and new face around Greenwood is Steve Wright who came to us from Jordan-Matthews in Siler City. His favorite sports are football and tennis. He says Greenwood's students are really nice. He plans to attend Duke or the University of Virginia, hoping to become a lawyer. His favorite time of day is spent as an aide to the fourth grade. We hear the girls think he is reat cute!

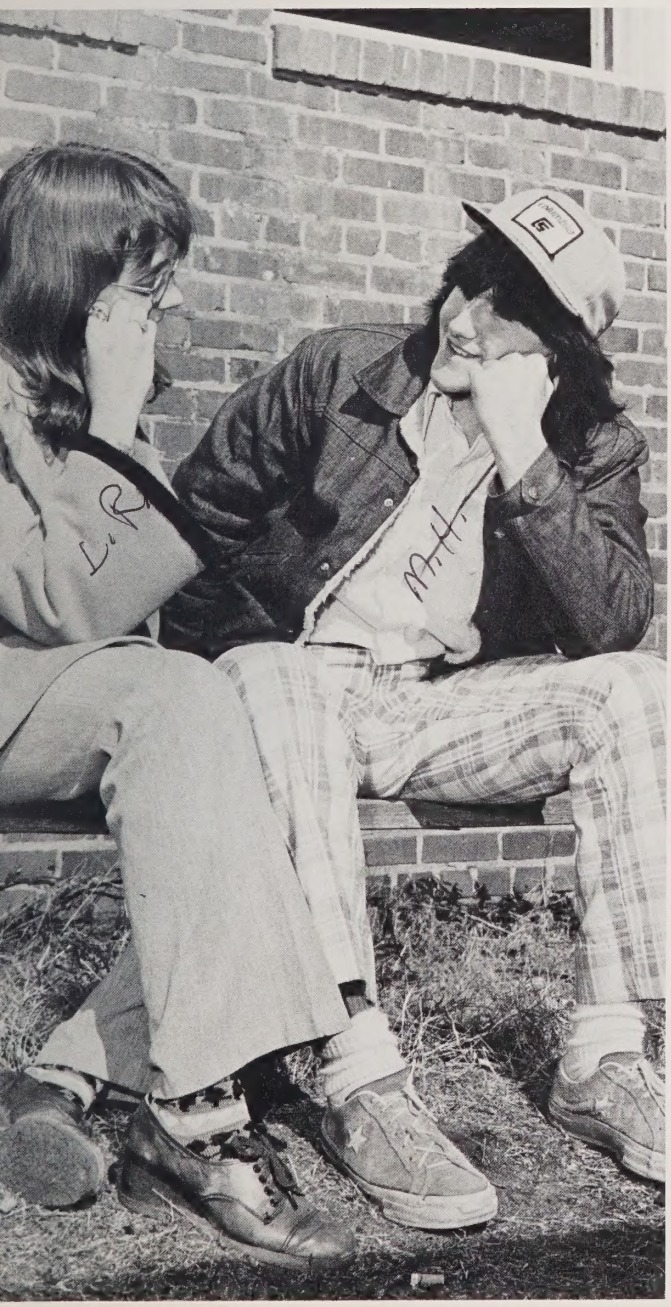
Greenwood also has several people that have been awarded honors this year, they are: Ricky Spivey who attended Boy's State last June. This is an annual conference on state legislature held at Wake Forest University. Only students with high qualities are considered for this honor and we are very proud of Ricky for being chosen.

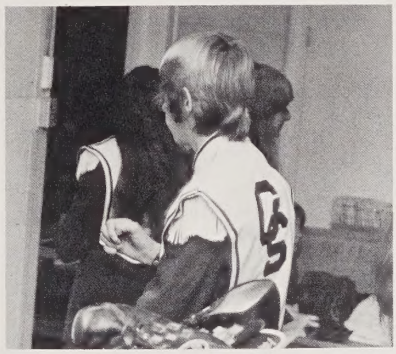
Virginia Fields won the local DAR Award in the fall. She was chosen by the high school faculty because of her good citizenship qualities, her hard work and her constant consideration of other's feelings.











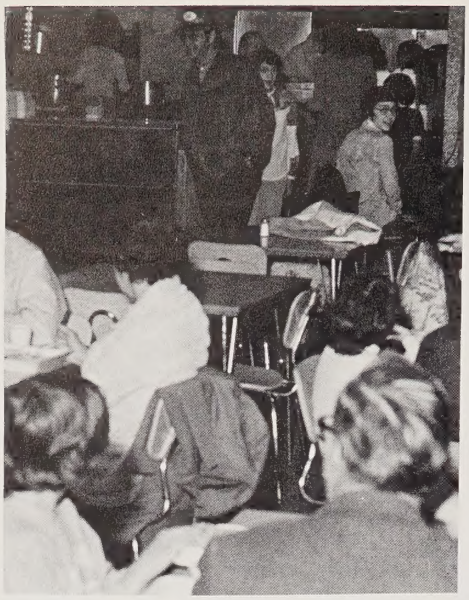
Gary Graham, is an intergal part of our GHS sports scene. He has managed the football team for three years and the boys' basketball team this past year. His major duties were "keeping the boys watered during games and acting as their medic!" How many people would agree to attend all the practice sessions and ballgames only to work "behind the lines" and never receive the glory of being a "star"?

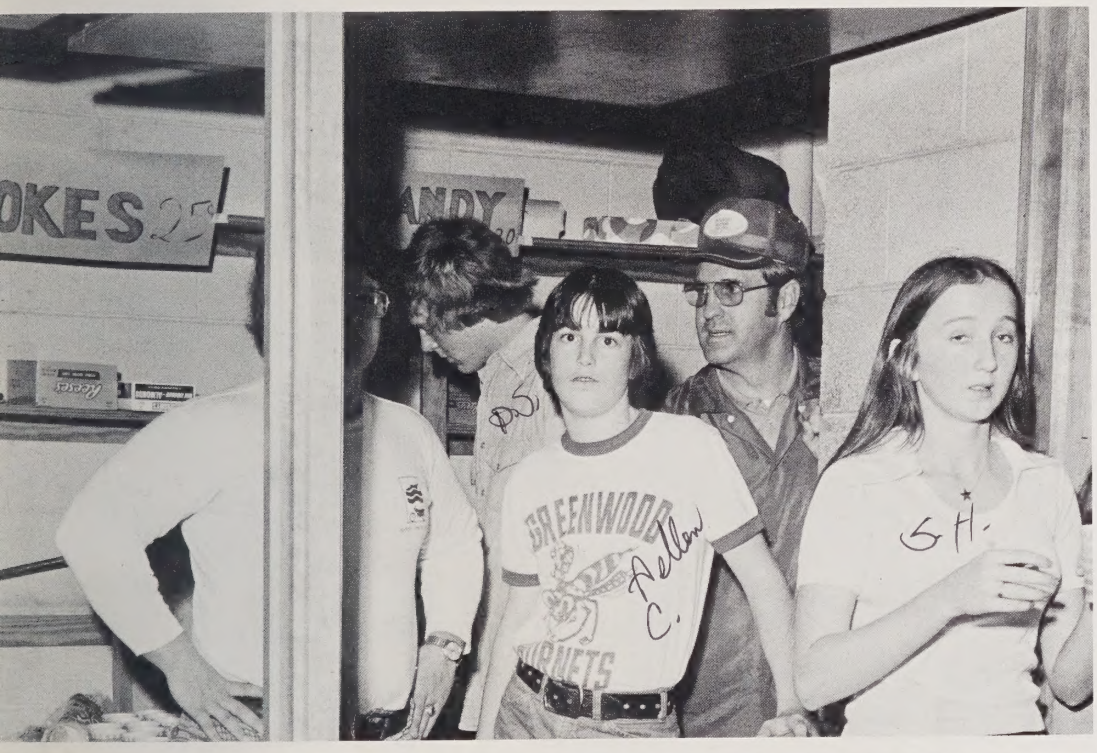
Gary is also in demand because of his musical abilities. He plays the drums for Tempting Congregational Church where he is president of the Youth and he also accompanies the GHS Stage Band and Chorus on his guitar.

We couldn't pass up the chance to ask Gary how he acquired the name "Buttermilk."
But it looks like we'll never really know — Gary doesn't even know himself! He said, "I'm not sure why I got the name. Someone started it in the sixth grade and it just stuck with me!"

Now students, gather into your appropriate reading circles for today's lesson:

Look. Look and see. Look to the top. What do you see? I see kids. The kids are laughing. Look closer. Who do you see? Teresa Strickland's happy face! Can you find her? She is an aide who helps with second graders. She likes helping kids, but she does not want to be a teacher!





This year we wanted to feature some important people of our school who go almost unnoticed — the Greenwood Athletic Boosters' Club!

You will find the Boosters supporting us in many ways: painting the concession stand, cleaning the football field, making hot dogs, handing out blankets at cold games, raising money, buying uniforms, yelling at games (Mrs. Pat Strickland should be a cheerleader), repairing the baseball field and many, many, many other things.

If you don't know anyone in the club they are easy to find. Look for the people proudly wearing their booster hats or bright yellow and green jackets and if you still don't see them — look for the people who are yelling or working very hard at a ballgame!

THANK YOU, BOOSTERS'!

The officers who have so faithfully served this year are President David Burge, vice-president Delano Strickland, secretary Joe Bill Johnson and treasurer Pat Strickland.

We have a celebrity with us at Greenwood, "Miss Teenage Sanford," perhaps better known as Alda Peak. Alda explains, "The pageant was sponsored by the Fair Promise AME Zion Church."

Alda is 5'4", has dark hair and eyes, and, as she laughingly put it, "an interesting person when you get to know me!?" We agree, Alda!

Typical of some of our students who have lived in many countries are Thomas and Lynda Simpson. As "army brats" they have lived in Iran, Panama, South America and several U.S. army bases.

The brother and sister traveling team said that they most enjoyed Panama where they lived for three years. "Going to school was pretty good there because we lived on base and could go home for lunch," comments Lynda. That sounds like a pretty good setup!

With all the hustle-bustle that school brings with tests, friends, research papers, eating or not eating, singing, hammering, sewing and many other antics that go on at GHS each day finally comes to an end. Happily we trudge to our lockers where we gather our books, throw in those bad tests we don't want anyone to see, exchange secrets, and head home remembering we locked our key in the locker!

That's an average day at GHS where we have our ups and downs, but it's all for a purpose — it's for a future!

Rainbows are what we need now
Follow them to the end and see what lies there.

Gordon Johnson

Moving up the ladder can be hard, especially if you change ladders in the middle of the year. In March, Greenwood students had to say farewell to Assistant Principal Eric Pittard.

Although many students saw Mr. Pittard as one keeping them in line, he was a friend to all students and teachers. The students depended on him for many things — getting them to class on time, clearing the halls, helping with personal and school problems, creating new activities for student involvement and sharing humorous experiences. Teachers sought his assistance with discipline problems, subject hang-ups, and even as a substitute. That's just to name a few!

You could always find Mr. Pittard handing out bus keys, taking up tickets at a ballgame, yelling the teams on, giving signs of praise at a concert, helping the Boosters and all other school activities.

Mr. Pittard, we're proud that others see how really great you are. But, what is Greenwood going to do without you?

We were without Mr. Pittard for only a short time when an ole face returned to take his place! Mr. Keller taught the seventh grade here for several years. He was liked and respected by all who knew him and now that he has returned we are sure he will be a friend to all and at the same time carry out his job to the fullest!

Ann,

You are a neat & cool girl. I hope I'm in your room next year. I don't know about you but I hope to be in Mr. Balsley's Room. I would love to remind you of the time we had together but the only thing we did together was play tennis. I hope you did enjoy it and maybe next year we will do more things together. Good Luck in the future and with the Boys. Love Ya!

SPONSOR'S THOUGHTS

Any time a project is to be done there are those who are always available for work. The annual staff is such a group and consists of a special group of students. They learn to meet the public by selling ads, they learn to accept "no" graciously, they learn to budget their time so they can get in ball practice, cheering sessions, club meetings, social activities and a little personal time and still have time to meet deadlines! Without the cooperation of the administration and faculty who allow their classes to be interrupted for pictures this project would be impossible. Mr. Ed Goldston and Mr. Sid Davis from Hunter Publishing Company are fine gentlemen and invaluable members of our staff. Mr. Wilson Moore and Darrell Nelson, our gracious photographers, are the ones who really make our yearbook possible! Without them we could not publish the PINE CONE.

Those who advertise are our real friends, too. We owe a real debt of gratitude to them because they give us ads year after year. Without them we would not have enough money! Students, read the ads, buy from them, and thank them for making our annual a reality.

Parents of our staff members have been very kind by allowing us to work in their homes, sometimes past their bedtimes, providing much needed refueling and understanding when we have to work on holidays and weekends. Without their understanding we would have a much harder task.

My special thanks to Mr. Price who has listened sympathetically and been very helpful to us. My husband and daughters have been helpful and tolerant when deadlines were pressing! A special thanks to everyone who has helped us in any way.

Anne,
You are a very sweet and pretty girl.
I like and always will.

Ann,

You are such a good friend and classmate. Although we have fuds we are not all purfect. I will always remember the times we had with Jump (Hey)!
But maybe someday my dream will come true. You are so pretty I will probably be forgotten as your friend when we get older. You keep it up ole pal and don't ever forget me.
